

Una città: pietra, cemento, asfalto. Gente sconosciuta, monumenti, istituzioni. Megalopoli. Città tentacolari. Arterie. Folla. Formicai?

Cos'è il cuore di una città? E l'anima di una città? Perché si dice che una città è bella o che una città è brutta? Che cosa c'è di bello e cosa c'è di brutto in una città? Come si conosce una città? Come si conosce la propria città?

La strada: cercare di descrivere la strada, di cosa è fatta, a cosa serve. La gente nelle strade. Le macchine. Che tipo di macchine? I palazzi: notare che sono piuttosto confortevoli, piuttosto ricchi; distinguere i palazzi d'abitazione dagli edifici pubblici. I negozi. Cosa si vende nei negozi? Non ci sono negozi d'alimentari. Ah, sì, c'è una panetteria. Chiedersi dove la gente del quartiere fa la spesa. I bar. Quanti bar ci sono?...

STREET and AVENUE INDEX

The Index letters and figures appearing within this map correspond to the color swatches for the ethnic groups listed on the opposite side of the map. The Index will be found on page 10.

Map of London – Charles Booth 1887-1904

The Streets are coloured according to the general condition of the inhabitants, as under--

- | | |
|  Lowest class. Vicious, semi-criminal. |  Fairly comfortable. Good ordinary earnings. |
|  Very poor, casual. Chronic want. |  Middle-class. Well-to-do. |
|  Poor. 18s. to 21s. a week for a moderate family. |  Upper-middle and Upper classes. Wealthy. |
|  Mixed. Some comfortable, others poor. | |

A combination of colours— as dark blue and black, or pink and red— indicates that the street contains a fair proportion of each of the classes represented by the respective colours.

Microsoft Patents 'Avoid Ghetto' Feature For GPS Devices

REDMOND, Wash. (CBS Seattle) – Microsoft has been granted a patent for its "avoid ghetto" feature for GPS devices.

A GPS device is used to find shortcuts and avoid traffic, but Microsoft's patent states that a route can be plotted for pedestrians to avoid an "unsafe neighborhood or being in an open area that is subject to harsh temperatures."

Created for mobile phones, the technology uses the latest crime statistics and weather data and includes them when calculating a route.

The patent, written in a combination of tech-speak and legalese, was awarded to Microsoft earlier this week. It also
